For our Zurich office we are looking for a

LEGAL ADVISOR

WE OFFER

- An exciting and dynamic position in the international financial market environment, right at the pulse of RegTech and AI
- A versatile portfolio of tasks, which includes assessing and monitoring of regulatory developments with regard to cross-border financial activities (in particular licensing requirements), drafting and updating our regulatory products (e.g. cross-border manuals) as well as advising and providing support to our clients
- The opportunity to work on RegTech and AI projects/solutions
- A well-working team of lawyers, attorneys-at-law and specialists in Switzerland and abroad
- The opportunity to be part of an interesting, challenging and rapidly developing industry and to interact with domestic and foreign clients and specialists in the field
- Modern offices in a central location in Zurich

YOU OFFER

- A law degree from a Swiss or European university
- Some three to seven years of professional experience in the field of financial markets law (e.g. as in-house counsel or compliance officer in the financial sector, in the legal profession or in consulting)
- An open, flexible and team-oriented personality
- Interest in RegTech and financial market regulations; readiness and ability to quickly familiarise oneself with new topics (on-the-job learning)
- A quick grasp, intrinsic motivation and an independent, service-oriented, entrepreneurial and hands-on working style
- The ability to well and precisely draft legal texts in English and fluency in German; every additional language skill is a plus

We are looking forward to receiving your complete application documents (motivation letter, curriculum vitae, references and diplomas) electronically (jobs@brpsa.com).

Benjamin Kurmann, Head of the BRP Zurich branch, will be happy to answer any questions you may have regarding this position.
